Using Administrative Data for Social Science and Policy

Here’s a call for papers that’s sure to appeal to CPI affiliates: The Russell Sage Foundation is soliciting papers that explore the role that administrative data can play in understanding social, political, and economic inequalities. Submissions are due by June 15, 2017.

- [Read the full call][1]

Reference Information

Publication Date:

April, 2017

Category:

Poverty News

Back to Top