CPI Small Grant Winners

The CPI is proud to announce the recipients of our 2017-18 small grants competition. Congratulations!

- Itay Ravid (Law School) to explore how distorted media portrayals of ethnic and racial minorities affect inequalities in the criminal justice system.
- Taylor Orth (Sociology) to study how essentialist beliefs and normative expectations reproduce gender gaps in the performance of care work.
- Isabelle Foster (Public Policy) to interview Paraguayan farmers about the potential of worker cooperatives as an anti-poverty tool.
- Caroline Abadeer (Political Science)
